

After more than 25 years of working with the government, there's one thing we've seen, time and time again. The disconnection of "service" from Public Service.

Somewhere along the line, outputs became more important than outcomes. Form and function overtook impact. Endless reporting, ineffective and complicated logic models, filling in templates, meeting after meeting, with no time to truly think and reflect.

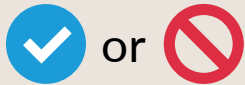

Leaders and teams become disconnected from the reason they joined the government in the first place. To be of service, to better the lives of Canadians...to truly have IMPACT.

We believe that passion and public service belong in the same sentence. You can be a public servant and absolutely LOVE what you do!

You feel like you are stuck in a rut

Your team is disconnected

Only time to react, not reflect

You question if you still love what you do

Passion and purpose are fleeting

You don't know how to fix it
